Art Unit: 1711

1. Claims 1-10 are presented for examination.
2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 is vague in failing to point out which specific derivatives are encompassed by scope of this claim.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1711

5. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujihira et al (US 2002/0128344) in view of Hird et al (US 5759569), Gaglani et al (US 6353021) and Ohsawa et al (US 6207235).

Fujihira describes biodegradable resin material (abstract). The material is comprised of mainly an aliphatic polyester resin [0060]. A carbodimide compound is used as an additive [0065] [0074][0077]. This additive is added at 1% by wt [0074][0077]. Articles are molded by suitable molding process (col. 20, claims 64 & 65).

Fujihira is silent about compound (c) of instant claim 1.

Hird discloses biodegradable articles made out of a composition comprising polymers and optional adjuvants. One such adjuvant is ultraviolet stabilizer (col. 10, lines 22-27).

Gaglani also discloses various UV stabilizers. Benzophenones as stabilizers are described in col. 5, line 35 to col. 6, line 36.

Ohsawa discloses composition in which a triazine UV absorber is preferably used (col. 10, line 50 to col. 11, line 49).

Therefore it would have been obvious to incorporate in the composition of the material of Fujihira the ultra violet stabilizer/s of any of the secondary references to stabilize the molded product against degradation by ultraviolet light thereby imparting stability of color and mechanical properties.
